Workforce Trends Employers seek designers with a 2- or 4-year degree who are knowledgeable about textiles, fabrics, ornamentation, and fashion trends. Employment growth for fashion designers will stem from a growing population demanding more clothing, footwear, and accessories. The best job opportunities will be in design firms that design mass market clothing sold in department stores and retail chain stores, such as apparel wholesale firms.		Core Curriculum and elective requirements may vary district to district. Check with your school counselor. Concurrent enrollment course offerings vary by school and district.		Many Utah post-secondary programs accept high school courses toward a two- or four-year degree through concurrent enrollment. Check regional post-secondary Pathways for details.
Get the Facts Two-thirds of salaried fashion designers are employed in either New York or California.

Workforce Trends Interior design is a small occupation with a very small number of job openings each year, although employment of interior designers is expected to increase 9 to 17% for all occupations through the year 2014. Economic expansion, growing homeowner wealth, and an increased interest in interior design will increase demand for designers.		Core Curriculum and elective requirements may vary district to district. Check with your school counselor. Concurrent enrollment course offerings vary by school and district. Many Utah post-secondary programs accept high school courses toward a two- or four-year degree through concurrent enrollment. Check regional post-secondary Pathways for details.
Get the Facts Currently, there are approximately 65,000 people in the interior design profession.
