

The National Instructional Materials Access Center NIMAC

The National Instructional Materials Access Center receives files and provides access to media producers qualified to create specialized formats. NIMAC has been established, through the American Printing House for the Blind, to receive and maintain a catalog of NIMAS print instructional materials. It is the one place where these source files are to be housed for future reference and use by all states. The NIMAC will also develop procedures to protect against copyright infringement.