

A Grizzly Bear

Margie's heart began to pound. The giant bear was after	10 fish. Dad would come between the bear and its food! She just	21 had to warn him before he reached the sandbar. Could she	33 warn him without making a sound and yet stay hidden from	44
the bear?	46
Fear made Margie's heart pound faster, but she didn't	55 dare let that stop her. She mustn't do anything wrong.	65
"A good woodsman would never be afraid," she told	74 herself as she crawled along. Her coat caught on a twig, and it	87 seemed to take forever to get it free.	95
When Margie reached the riverbank, she thought her legs	104 could go no farther. She knew just how important it was to	116 warn her dad. There was no time to lose.	125
