

Haboob

One day in 2011, in Phoenix, Arizona, a woman was	10
getting in her car, which was parked in her driveway.	20
Suddenly, her husband ran out of the house. He was waving	31
his arms and yelling.	35
"Haboob!" he yelled.	38
Without another word, the woman ran back in her house	48 and shut the front door. The husband and wife stood at their	60 front window. A few minutes later, the sky began to darken.	71
And then, sand began to swirl around the house. Soon, sand	82 and dust were everywhere, blowing all around the house. This	92 lasted for almost an hour.	97
The woman and her husband were watching a type of	107 dust storm, called a "haboob." A dust storm is a kind of storm	120 where wind picks up sand and dust from the desert and blows	132
them into the air.	136
