

It is quite necessary for people, old and young, 10 alike to have fun. It is just as crucial for all to realize 20 that having a good time is of secondary importance 30 when there is work to do. 35

People who keep fun and work in proper balance 10 are the ones who have developed a maturity that 19 often leads to success and happiness. Those who 28 see fun in work itself are truly fortunate people, too. 38
For them, work is a great expectation, not a thankless 48 affair. 50
