Learning to Do, Doing to Learn, Earning to Live, Living to Serve

Mission: To make a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth, and career success through agricultural education.

- FFA is the student leadership organization for agricultural education. Founded in 1928, the Future Farmers of America brought together students, teachers, and agribusiness to solidify support for agricultural education.
- Since 1928, millions of agriculture students have donned the official FFA blue jacket and championed the FFA creed.
- Today, FFA remains committed to making a positive difference in the lives of young people by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth, and career success through agricultural education.
- FFA brings relevance to the classroom through industry-based competitive events and community service.
- With 760,495 student members, FFA has a definite impact on students' overall college and career readiness.

Utah	17,257	100

Utah FFA strives to provide its members with an environment that is positive and uplifting, where they can cultivate aspects of professionalism, leadership, personal growth, career success, and an understanding of the agricultural life while still having fun and building relationships. "Utah FFA is successful because of the members within the organization. They bring the confidence, character, and ultimately build the community that helps us thrive," said Chester, Utah FFA State Sentinel.

In Utah, CTSOs align with the national CTE Career Clusters® and 32 CTE Career Pathways.

FFA student members participate in hands-on work experiences that assist them in developing life skills and discovering their career path to realize success.

FFA PROFILE

There are FFA members, ages 12-21, in all 50 U.S. states, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

66 percent of FFA women hold state leader ship positions.

More than 13,000 FFA advisors and agriculture teachers deliver an integrated model of agricultural education, providing students with innovative and leading-edge education and enabling them to grow into competent leaders.

In 2025, eighty-two Utah FFA members received the American FFA degree. This is the highest recognition an FFA member can receive.

NATIONAL RECOGNITION

Each year, Utah FFA student members compete at the FFA National Convention & Expo in 27 different contests.

Goals

Utah FFA Goals for 2025-2026:

1. Make a positive impact on all members.
2. 100 percent chapter visit attendance at requested events.
3. Amplify area leadership involvement and activities.

Service

"Digging into our local agriculture" is the movement the State FFA officers are encouraging FFA members to focus on, so they can appreciate their local economy and industries, and help others become more literate in agriculture.

In 2025, Utah FFA members provided 26,652 hours of community service.

Teaching

FFA members regularly visit elementary schools to teach children about agriculture. Every September, FFA sponsors the Little Hands on the Farm exhibit at the Utah State Fair, where volunteers teach children where food comes from—farm to grocery store.

Utah CTSOs are open to all qualified students without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, disability, or age.

Learning by Doing. Growing by Leading.

FFA members actively engage in supervised agricultural experiences (SAEs) that range from aquaculture to wildlife management. Members participate in career and leadership development events and challenges. Those interested in science and research compete in local, state, and national agriscience fairs. No matter how members engage, the interests they find, or the relationships they form, the FFA experience changes their perception of and appreciation for agriculture, for life.
