Student Tutoring Achievement for Reading
Letter Name List

Before beginning Letter Name Lessons, the tutor will write the student's name on a separate piece of paper. Have the student name each letter in his/her first name. If all letters are known, cover columns B-F of the Letter Name List and have the student read the letters in column A. Highlight the letters the student can name on a separate copy of the Letter Name List. Use the un-highlighted letters to teach the Letter Name Lessons. When all letters are known in column A, repeat the process for column B, then columns C, D, E, and F.

If the student cannot name all of the letters in his/her first name, write the unknown letters on the lesson plan under the word work section and begin with Learning the Letters in My Name Lesson #1. When all letters in their name are known, begin Letter Name Lessons as instructed above.
