

Hidden Danger

Margie sat on a rock and looked around. A red squirrel	11 jumped across the branch of a tree. A bird circled round and	23 round overhead. Down below, a spot of color flashed through	33
the thick bushes. "It's the shoulder of Dad's coat," thought	43
Margie.	44
It was cool and quiet beneath the trees, and she grew	55
sleepy. "A good woodsman won't fall asleep in the daytime,"	65
she said to herself.	69
Suddenly Margie sat up straight. She had noticed	77 something in the bushes across the river. Now it began to	88 move slowly away from the cover of the bushes and walk	99 toward the river. It was a bear. A giant grizzly bear!	110
The thick bushes hid the bear so Dad wouldn't be able to	122
see it. Margie almost cried out in fear, but she stopped just in	135 time. She mustn't yell. That would make plenty of trouble.	145
