If you think the word you want to key, the fingers will know what they are to do. Just relax, then, and let them go. Try not to pause after you strike a key. Quickly move on to the next one. Be sure to size up each word and then key it.